

Claim #1

001 I claim as invention, a surface and underground mechanism to turn a turbine to create electricity. This invention includes mechanism triggered into action by a highway surface devise which causes it to apply the surface action of motor vehicle traffic weight and motion to the said underground mechanism.